The Palm Beaches

America's First Resort Destination

Founded in 1909, the legendary hospitality of The Palm Beaches has been drawing rave vacation reviews for over 100 years. This stylish paradise, the largest County southeast of the Mississippi River, represents "THE BEST OF EVERYTHING" - from DISTINCTIVE ATTRACTIONS and SUPERB CULTURAL VENUES to TOP-NOTCH FESTIVALS and EDGE-OF-YOUR-SEAT SPORTING ACTIVITIES.

Cities that include Delray Beach, Boca Raton, Jupiter and Palm Beach provide travelers with a distinctive collection of charming neighborhoods, friendly downtowns and an abundance of outdoor activities.

The Palm Beaches, America's First Resort Destination, is celebrating its 100-year anniversary with an historic vacation opportunity: The 1909 Founders Package. Extremely popular with travelers, the 1909 Founders Package offers an additional night's stay for only $19.09 at participating hotels, resorts and B&Bs when guests stay two, three or four nights. The promotion runs until December 31, 2009.

Throughout the Palm Beaches, visitors enjoy what the locals have long appreciated; an unmatched menu of culinary attractions, cultural venues and trendy boutiques. Picnicking along 47 miles of beautiful golden beaches or cruising down the historic ocean highway A1A are enriching experiences that don't cost a dime. Most importantly, all these wonderful tourism assets exist in the uncluttered, uncomplicated and easily accessible world of the Palm Beaches. The area boasts more than 16,000 guestrooms in more than 200 hotels. Premiere resorts, affordable inns, and bed and breakfasts create an extensive list of accommodations from which to choose. Elegant and casual dining is found at the more than 2,300 unique restaurants.

From the fun and forward shops of the Clematis Street district and the European town center of CityPlace in West Palm Beach; the famous and elegant boutiques of Worth Avenue; and the superior shopping malls of Boca Raton, Palm Beach Gardens and Wellington - Palm Beach County offers renowned shopping at a vast selection of locales with something for every taste.

Venturing through the County's collection of municipalities can uncover experiences as satisfying as the weather while being diversely unique. Visitors to this sub-tropical paradise will find towns that are rich in culinary and cultural experiences, exciting sporting venues and eco-adventures, and home to warm, friendly people.

Palm Beach County is Florida's Cultural Capital. With more than 300 museums, performing arts venues, historical points of interest and thriving cultural organizations, the County's cultural scene sparkles as brightly as the shoreline. From the Kravis Center for the Performing Arts and Norton Museum of Art, to Ballet Florida and Boca Raton Museum of Art - all reflect a diversity of excellent entertainment and unequaled exhibits. Every interest and budget is accommodated, and now visitors can also take advantage of two-for-one ticket offers through "Culture Key," a buy one; get one free deal on ticket purchases to over 30 different cultural experiences. For more information, visit palm-beachculture.com/ck.

Palm Beach County is surrounded by water, so it's no wonder water activities abound. Anglers will find the best in deep-sea fishing and numerous fresh water spots. Scuba enthusiasts enjoy colorful corals, sea turtles, nurse sharks and the Western Hemisphere's widest variety of tropical and sport fish. Eco-tourists appreciate this exploration utopia, both on land and under the sea. Adventures await yachters; canoe/kayaking enthusiasts, beachgoers, divers and pleasure boaters alike.

Fully registered as Florida's Golf Capital™, Palm Beach County has more than 160 public and private golf courses. Baseball is also a local pastime. At Jupiter's Roger Dean Stadium, baseball is an all-season treat. Both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Florida Marlins have their spring training in the stadium, and in the summer the Jupiter Hammerheads and the Palm Beach Cardinals are the local Florida State League teams.
